ESCP 2015, Dublin

We are delighted to invite you to attend ESCP's 10th Scientific and Annual meeting at the fabulous Convention Centre Dublin (CCD), now in its 5th year. There is nowhere quite like Dublin, and this vibrant city, full of character, innovation and humour, is ready to welcome ESCP with open arms!

ESCP is dedicated to promoting and advancing the science, knowledge and practice of Coloproctology with high quality multidisciplinary annual clinical and scientific meetings. In addition to main sessions, our educational programme for younger surgeons, which was such a success in Barcelona, will be repeated. Further features to the educational programme have been introduced on Tuesday using facilities available to us at the Royal College of Surgeons of Ireland and Mater Misericordiae University Hospital, each of whom are kindly providing facilities and local organisation, together with local faculty - see page 5 for details. ESCP would like to thank Ethicon for their kind agreement to support these new workshops.

This year for the first time also, we introduce additional symposia through joint or collaborative initiatives with two Societies, a joint session with EAES (European Association of Endoscopic Surgeons) and a Crohn's symposium designed in collaboration with S-ECCO; these are very exciting developments for the Society.

We are now approaching our 10th anniversary (January 2016) since ECCP and EACP merged, and our congress continues to grow in size and stature from year to year. Registration and hotel bookings will open in March 2015 and we encourage you to register early to take advantage of the best prices. Don't forget to book your hotel and flights early too!

We look forward to welcoming you to the fair city of Dublin!

The Centre is only a short distance from central areas such as Grafton Street, many superb restaurants, cafés and hotels, all within easy walking distance.

There are many excellent pedestrian links too between the North and South parts of the city's docklands. The Sean O'Casey Bridge, located on City Quay on the south side and Custom House Quay on the north side, has made a huge difference to how people get around the city.

About Dublin

Dublin is the capital city of Ireland and the greater Dublin area is home to over a third of Ireland's population. Dublin sits on the shores of Dublin Bay and the River Liffey runs through the centre of the city.

The city is a blend of historical churches and cathedrals, Georgian squares and townhouses, castles and monuments together with grand new hotels, shopping centres and stunning new street architecture. Dublin's origins date back to Viking times and the city's main historical attraction is the Book of Kells housed in Trinity College. Dublin is a UNESCO city of literature and has also been home to many literary luminaries including four Nobel Laureates - George Bernard Shaw, W.B. Yeats, Seamus Heaney and Samuel Beckett. The Temple Bar area remains the city's hub for cultural arts, restaurants and bars. Other attractions include the Guinness Storehouse, Old Jamieson Distillery, Kilmainham Gaol and The Casino at Marino, a small perfect example of neo-classical architecture.

Dublin Weather

Dublin has a temperate maritime climate of cool summers and mild winters. Although it does rain in Dublin, the city sits in a rain shelter so sees half as much rain as the wetter west coast of Ireland. Dublin does not see temperate extremes and September temperatures are usually between 10 - 17°C. Rainfall is fairly even throughout the year and September will usually see 11 - 12 days of rain, so be prepared with your umbrella!

Money

The official currency used in Ireland is the Euro (€).

Banks

Opening hours are generally Monday to Friday from 10:00 to 16:00, with later opening on Thursday when banks close at 17:00.

Thursday 24 September

ESCP dinner at Trinity College

Time: 20:00

Cost: ticket price €110 (early) €120 (late and onsite, if available)

We are delighted to have the opportunity to experience one of the most famous and elegant buildings in the city for our meal together, at Trinity College, part of the University of Dublin, founded in 1592 by Queen Elizabeth I. The College was modelled on the collegiate universities of Oxford and of Cambridge, but, unlike these, only one college was ever established. It is one of the seven ancient universities of Britain and Ireland as well as Ireland's oldest university.

Originally established outside the city walls of Dublin in the buildings of the dissolved Augustinian Priory of All Hallows, Trinity College is now surrounded by Dublin and centrally located on College Green, just 10 minutes' walk from CCD and most of ESCP's official hotels

We will dine in the magnificent 18th century Dining Hall, and yet as usual, our evening will be distinctly informal, a good chance to catch up with friends, and enjoy good food with discrete Irish background entertainment. Fine food and wine, and NO long speeches are guaranteed!

Ticket price includes: a welcome drink, 3-course dinner with coffee and 1/2 bottle of wine per person. Trinity College is easily reached on foot from all central Dublin hotels and you are asked to make your own way there.

Dublin Travel Information

Dublin has excellent air links with the rest of Europe with direct flights from many European cities.

You can find information and search flight routes at www.dublinairport.com – select Flight Information and then Destinations & Airlines.

Travel between airport and city

Dublin International airport is 10 km north of Dublin and 11 km from the CCD.

AIRPORT BUS - the Airlink 747 service between the airport and Dublin city centre runs from 06.00 to 23.30 (airport > Dublin) and from 05.00 to 23.30 (Dublin > airport) every day. Buses leave every 15 – 20 minutes and the trip takes around 30 minutes. The Airlink 747 stops at the Spencer Hotel a few minutes' walk from the CCD. The price of a one way ticket is €6 and a return ticket is €10 (correct at time of printing).

TAXI FROM AIRPORT TO CCD - the trip takes approximately 15-20 minutes although during rush-hour can be longer. Fares change according to the time of day but all taxi drivers must comply with the officially established fare timetable and the average fare is €25.00. The new tunnel can be used to speed up the journey during peak hours, for which there is an additional toll charge, and taxi drivers can provide information when you begin your journey as to whether this might be advantageous.

Further up to date information about airport transfer services is available at www.dublinairport.com – select To & from the Airport.

Getting around Dublin

GETTING TO CCD FROM DUBLIN CITY

CENTRE - Dublin is a relatively compact city and it is possible to walk from St Stephen's Green to the CCD in 30 minutes. You can also reach the CCD by bus (using the 33X, 142 or 747 bus alighting at North Wall Quay, Convention Centre) and by the Luas Red Line tram, alighting at the Mayor Square or Spencer Dock tram stop.

TAXIS - official (licensed) Dublin taxis display a large yellow and blue roof-sign and door signage. The illuminated roof light indicates that it's available for hire. A 15 minute journey will cost from €10.00, dependent on the time of day and traffic conditions. Licensed taxis must charge you the amount displayed on the meter; rates will be displayed inside the cab. Only a few taxis have facilities for credit/debit card transactions.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT - the city has an excellent public transport network across bus and tram routes. Further up to date information about Dublin's public transport services can be found at www.dublinbus.ie/en and www.luas.ie.

If you are intending to use public transport it is well worth obtaining a 'Leap Card' which can be used across buses, trams and trains. It can be loaded for pay-as-you-go travel or purchase unlimited travel for 72 hours, one advantage is that you don't have to carry a pocket full of change! Further information is available at www.leapcard.ie.

BUSES - there's also a clean and efficient bus service. Most buses go to and from the city centre, with less radial services. As Dublin has no central bus station, most buses stop in central areas including O'Connell Street, Dame Street, Nassau Street. Buses require the correct change and do not accept Euro notes or provide change. Tell the driver where you want to go and they will be able to tell you the fare.

TRAMS (LUAS) - In Dublin this service is called 'Luas' and trams can be spotted around the city - they are silver and travel at about the same speed as a car. Dublin's tram system operates on two lines (the Red Line and the Green Line) however it can be a great way to get around the city. Single or return journey tickets can be purchased and the journey must be completed within 90 minutes' of purchasing the ticket.

If you are booking a hotel via MCI, you will find details on ESCP's website about how to get there using public transport from either the airport or the CCD, go to www.escp.eu.com/dublin and select Accommodation for further details.

Fellowship Update

ESCP 2014-2015 fellowships are supported by educational partners Ethicon and Medtronic

ANVAR MAKHAMUDOV

From: Medical Academy of Postgraduate Education, Minsk, Belarus.

Visiting: Leicester General Hospital, United Kingdom under the direction of Mr Sanjay Chaudhri

I would like to thank the ESCP for this great opportunity to visit the colorectal unit at the University Hospitals of Leicester. I arrived here on the 6th January 2015.

During my short time here so far, I have seen interesting cases including laparoscopic resections and extralevator APER. I have also seen modern methods of treatment of anal fistula, haemorrhoids, fissures etc and robotic colorectal surgery. I have had the opportunity to see an enhanced recovery program and day case surgery both of which I hope to introduce in my hospital on my return.

Along with my professional development, I have a unique chance to meet and chat with great people and live in a beautiful city. I can see this amazing country with its ancient culture and traditions. I would like to express my gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Chaudhri for his support and help here in the UK and the new knowledge which he has generously shared with me.

NICOLETTA SVEVA PIPITONE FEDERICO

From: Ospedale Santa Croce, Cuneo, Italy

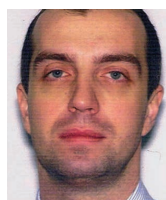

Visiting: Kantonsspital St.Gallen, Switzerland under the direction of Dr Lukas Marti

Thanks to the ESCP I am having a great experience here at Kantonsspital in St. Gallen, working alongside the coloproctology team directed by Dr. Lukas Marti.

Everybody gave me a very nice welcome and since the first day I have been taking part in surgical activity in the operating room; assisting Dr. Marti or working by myself under colleagues' supervision. I am helping with outpatient consultations, attending the daily team meeting and discussing pelvic floor diseases with the interesting multidisciplinary staff.

My placement has been really useful and stimulating, everyday I am learning new things and see new surgical techniques and different approaches that I can discuss and learn from my tutor and colleagues (TME down-to up with double équipe, laparoscopic colporectopexie with mesh, flap for sinus pilonidale etc.). I have the chance to experience different surgical disciplines here in Switzerland, though it is not so far from the Italian one, and I am sure that at the end of my Fellowship, I will have grown professionally.

SEBASTIAN SMOLAREK

From: Connolly Hospital Blanchardstown, Dublin, Ireland

Visiting: University of Rome Tor Vergata, Italy under the direction of Prof Pierpaolo Sileri

I am honored to be one of the recipients of 2014/15 sponsored ESCP Fellowships.

I am spending three months at the University of Rome Tor Vergata, working under the supervision of Prof Pierpaolo Sileri. During my stay I have the chance to observe, learn and get hands-on experience with a variety of colorectal surgical diseases. I am learning new tips and tricks of laparoscopic surgery as well as different techniques for the treatment of rectal prolapse. I have also had chance to be involved in academic research projects.

I would like to express my gratitude to Prof Pierpaolo Sileri and Prof Luana Franceschilli who have made my stay both educational and enriching. I would like to also thank ESCP and Medtronic and Ethicon for this grant as well as my department for allowing me to leave for three months. I believe that The European Society of Coloproctology Surgical Fellowship will be an exceptional addition to my surgical training.
