M42 Course – Coloproctology for Junior Surgical Trainees

Part of the role of the Association of Coloproctology of Great Britain and Ireland is ensuring adequate training of future colorectal surgeons. As part of this commitment, the Association runs a postgraduate course in colorectal surgery aimed at FY2, ST1,2&3, FTSTA and other Junior Surgical Trainees. The course provides a detailed introduction to colorectal surgery, with emphasis on clinical aspects of the speciality, rather than latest advances and theory. The format of the course includes lectures from recognised experts, a self-assessment exercise, and interactive case presentations and radiology session. Approval for the course has been received from the Regional Postgraduate Dean.

The M42 course takes over from the very successful and popular M54 course run at Wolverhampton by Graham Williams for 15 years until 2012, and carries similar content and focus.

The course starts at 10 am on Thursday the 16th May and runs through to the end of the afternoon on the 17th of May. A registration fee of £150 is payable in advance. Refreshments and lunch on both days are included in the registration fee. An informal supper will be held in a local Indian Restaurant on the Thursday evening. The cost of the dinner is £30 (including drinks; dress casual).

To keep the course interactive places are limited. Early application is encouraged.

Feedback from 2010 M54 course (predecessor to M42)

"An excellent course, very good value"

"Great presentations, pitched at the right level"

"Very useful for on call"

"All the course was relevant for the exams and what I do at work"

We look forward to seeing you in Birmingham in May
